OVERVIEW, TARGET AUDIENCE AND LEARNER OUTCOME

Eliza Fernie was well cared for as a child in the Cardiology Department at Children's Hospital Colorado in the early 1980s. As an adult now pursuing her own career, she and her family continue to be grateful for the care she received. Their aim is to give back by helping pediatric nurses and other members of the healthcare team continue to excel in the clinical setting.

The Eliza Fernie Pediatric Critical Care Symposium is designed to provide evidenced-based critical care updates for nurses, respiratory therapists, and other team members. After attending this event, participants will be able to report increased knowledge in evidence-based critical care updates.
