41st Annual Conference on Pediatric Infectious Diseases

Overview

We are excited to return to Vail, Colorado for the 41st Annual Conference on Pediatric Infectious Diseases. Vail is a small community nestled in the mountains and a short, beautiful drive from Denver, Colorado.

We will be holding a hybrid conference. You can choose to come in-person (Live Attendance) or to attend virtually (Virtual Attendance). The in-person conference will take place at The Lodge at Vail (lodgeatvail.rockresorts.com), located in the heart of Vail Village.

This conference presents topics of interest to pediatric, family practice and infectious diseases clinicians, as well as other health professionals. Speakers cover the most recent information on diagnosis, management, and prevention of infections in pediatrics. Discussion of controversial issues and questions follow each presentation. This conference is designed to promote information interchange; therefore, registration is limited.

Objectives

Following the presentations, attendees should be able to:

- Discuss newest evidence, best practices and guidelines in the diagnosis and management of RSV.
- Discuss how climate change and the recent pandemic affect the epidemiology of infectious diseases.
- Review the newest data and guidance for diagnosing and managing UTIs in children.
- Demonstrate knowledge of infection prevention and control.
- Discuss ways to integrate sustainability into your antibiotic prescribing.
- Discuss updates on prevention and management of influenza, SARS-CoV-2, and other vaccine-preventable diseases.
- Describe communication strategies to mitigate pressure to prescribe antibiotics.
- Discuss newest evidence and best practices for the diagnosis and management of mycoplasma, Chagas, and ESBL infections.
- Describe best practices for evaluating recent migrants from Latin America.
- Describe risks and benefits of probiotics for children.
- Discuss changes to the newest edition of the Red Book.
- Describe rashes and the infectious disease differential for pediatric patients.
- Discuss new scientific data published within the last year that affects the management of infections in general pediatrics.
- Discuss prevention, evaluation, and management of common and uncommon pediatric diseases.

Continuing Education Credit

Children's Hospital is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Children's Hospital Colorado designates this Live activity for a maximum of 21 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)TM.

Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
