This educational program is designed for nurses who care for children with tracheostomies and/or ventilator dependence in the school setting. It includes both didactic instruction and hands-on skills training focused on the care of pediatric patients with tracheostomy tubes and those requiring chronic mechanical ventilation. Upon completion of the program, participants will report increased knowledge in routine tracheostomy care, emergency response to tracheostomy-related complications, and ventilator management, and an intent to apply this learning to their practice when caring for a student with a tracheostomy and/or ventilator in the school environment.
